

Tip For Law Enforcement

This is what happened I left a company called Digicare Biomedical about a year ago to start the company I'm working on. They didn't like this and became angry which is where a disturbing pattern of psychological sabotage started. At first it was the subtle usual tricks when that didn't work they began to escalate the pattern. They became aware of a girl on the dance team that I'm interested in and that seems to have upset people here in Boca who I have never met.

As far as I can tell the college students are innocent she just got ahead of herself and didn't realize she's still in school.

Now these people in Boca and Digicare Biomedical and who ever else are all committed to trying to bring me down in what I'm doing or not. Why? You need to ask them. One calculation I believe they made is this, what I'm attempting to build is innovative but challenging & have a limited budget to pull it off. If we can psychologically sabotage him enough he will fail and we win.

When all the initial tactics didn't work its just escalated and escalated to the point this is at now. A motivated company you use to work for combined with someone here in Boca with resources. And they very well may be driving NJ plates.

As president Trump says Law + Order. What I'm experiencing is a huge violation of the law. This is some organized BS to take some down psychologically to make them fail. I believe I've provided more than enough tips for the law to take effect. They will not stop it only escalates and gets worse. This needs to be solved where its originating from. The apartment above me and next both seem to be on the payroll. ^{See} Evidence

And the current that you see reading against my wall I'm going to take a guess here and say it could be an ultrasonic device that is being emitted into my room. It may explain the current on the wall, the humming speaker, and my back starting to tingle

Accepting drakes money only brings problems

I hope everyone who reads this and finds it to be something that should be looked into will ask there local law enforcement officer about it. Till now it's been tough to find the serve and protect.
